CRASH!

"Maka!" Soul screamed as he watched his meister fly into a load of boxes in the warehouse they were currently fighting in.

They were on a mission to kill a kishin egg, when it snuck up behind them and knocked Soul away from his meister in an explosion attack. The attack had also sent Maka into those crates from earlier.

That kishin egg was now closing in on her quickly. Soul, seeing this, ran straight toward the beast, and before it even saw him coming, Soul killed it with one swipe of his blade-arm. He left the blood red soul floating in mid-air, and ran for Maka.

Said girl was still conscious, surprisingly, but wasn't in the best shape.

" Come on, Maka, let's at least get you somewhere that I can see how bad you're hurt." his voice was soft and concerned.

She groaned once before mumbling a pained, " okay", back to him.

He made his way over to her, even more worried now, seeing as how 'The Great Maka Albarn' was showing weakness. Finally reaching her, he gently picked her up bridal style, and carried her out of the building, only stopping to grab the soul and eat it.

It was dark now, so Soul walked to the nearest street light and set his technician down, using his jacket as a pillow for her.

" Where does it hurt?", he inquired, hoping the damage wasn't too bad.

" I think I broke a couple ribs, again, and my shoulder feels dislocated. Other than that I just feel battered, but I'll be fine." She was holding her right side as she spoke.

"That's not too bad, then, let's get you back to the academy. They'll take care of you there."

" Thanks, Soul, you're the best."

" I know." he spoke firmly as he got down on his knees and put forehead against hers and grabbed her hand in his.

She blushed as she asked, " Soul, what are you doing?"

" You scared me back there, Maka, and I decided I would tell you something as soon as I knew you would be alright.", his voice was serious.

" What?"

" I-I love you, Maka Albarn." he stated.

Her eyes went wide at that, but she still replied, " I love you too, Soul." Even at that she was still caught completely off guard by what happened next.

Soul 'Eater' Evans kissed her. But, she still wasted no time in kissing him back. They finally broke for air when Maka spoke again.

" Soul, you have no idea how long I have waited for you to do that."

He chuckled once before responding," Well, you have no idea how long I have wanted to do that. Now, let's get you back, shall we?"

"Kay." she says back before they begin heading home again.
